Dear Teachers & Educators,

Future Past Perfect presents seven concurrent exhibitions of emerging South Florida artists who have already established a consistent body of work that has garnered attention. For each of these artists, this is their first solo museum exhibition.

Experienced collectively, these solo exhibitions demonstrate how these artists confronted their fears of the unknown while grappling with the tragic consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic, and explored themes such as politics, migration, global warming, and social justice in their work. Their distinct artistic practices were honed and influenced by the isolation experienced during this period, resulting in exponential growth, maturity, and mastery of their work.

The COVID-19 pandemic presented unforeseen challenges to the artistic community, derailing the career trajectories of many emerging artists. Those who were art students during the pandemic navigated the intimidating task of building an art practice in isolation and through remote learning, while museums and galleries remained shuttered for extended periods of time. Forced to rely on the internet as their primary platform for sharing their work with the public, these artists experienced limited personal contact with fellow artists and professionals. However, the unparalleled opportunity for uninterrupted studio time allowed them to delve deeper into their creative process. Their artistic journeys are now ready to be shared with a wider audience, inviting viewers to immerse themselves in the remarkable creations born from this concentrated period of studio introspection. Future Past Perfect showcases the vibrant diversity of South Florida’s communities and captures a regional renaissance that is bursting with talent that has yet to receive widespread recognition.

The exhibitions featured in Future Past Perfect were curated by Director and Chief Curator Bonnie Clearwater and the Museum’s Bryant-Taylor Curator Ariella Wolens.

ABOUT MUSEUM ON THE MOVE

Museum on the Move is an innovative education program that invites Broward County students to NSU Art Museum. The program enhances learning and increases engagement by involving students in interactive programs of the Museum's exhibitions and hands-on art activities based on principles of STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art, math) along with 21st Century learning skills. These programs combine observations and discussions of the artwork where students learn to recognize mediums, materials, and the artistic process. The art activities are designed for students to recognize how different elements function together to express ideas and emotions, solve visual dilemmas, and realize artists' intentions. Book your Museum on the Move field trip today. All Broward County Public Schools receive free transportation and tour! During their encounter, students participate in a guided tour led by an Art Educator. Students engage in conversation exploring methods of critical, and divergent thinking. In-person field trip visits also include a hands-on art making activity led by an educator. Additionally, virtual offerings can be tailored to the needs of the virtual classroom. Several virtual learning modules are available to choose from, each specially designed to suit your teaching needs: Live Virtual Zoom Tours (one per semester), and Elements of Art and Principles of Design prerecorded video series includes art talk and activity, art making videos and printable lessons and activities.

KEY TERMS

Conceptual Art - Art in which the idea or concept presented by the artist is considered more important than its appearance or execution.

Surreal Art – Surrealism was an art movement that began in the mid 1920’s. Explore the subconscious mind and depicts imagery that is dream-like or random in thoughts. Contemporary artists have continued to create surreal art with contemporary perspectives.

Anthropology - The study of human beings and their cultures, from prehistoric times to today

Etymology - The study of the origin and meaning of words and names. It tells us how words have changed over time, and what other languages they came from.

Caché - A collection of items of the same type stored in a hidden place.

New Wave - A modern style of art, film, or fashion that tries to be very different or unusual often in a shocking way.

Iconographic - The classification, description, interpretation, and characterization of image content

Dystopic – A dystopia is a place where people are unhappy and usually afraid because they are not treated fairly.
Teacher Guide Activities Overview

The activities in this guide can be adapted to fit the grade level of your students. Each activity is based on the featured artists in the exhibition. Feel free to use this guide as a starting point for your physical or virtual classroom.

Description: The work of Future Past Perfect gives us insight into various South Floridian artist’s surroundings and frame of mind as they captured the rapidly changing world around them. Through discussion, research, writing, and observation, students will explore the concepts associated with these artists and their work.

Learning Objectives:
- Students will analyze artworks and think critically about what artists may have intended to represent in their works.
- Students will compare and contrast the modern period to present day.
- Students will build an understanding of the art-making process by creating plans for artworks of their own.

Essential Questions:
- What can we learn about life and culture from the past?
  - How does life and culture compare to today?
- What aspects of these South Floridian artist’s artwork allows you to understand the lifestyle and events of the specific time?
- How have the artists used their medium to communicate, or archive their ideas?
Western Art History
Timeline

Prehistoric (30,000 BC - 2500 BC)
Associated with art made prior to the invention of written languages and record keeping, like cave paintings and stone carvings.

Ancient Egyptian (3,000 BC - 300 AD)
Associated with stylized depictions of people, and objects used for religious and ceremonial purposes, like canopic jars, and sarcophagi.

Greek Classical (500 BC - 300 BC)
Associated with idealized images of the human form, seen in red and black figure pottery, marble sculpture and architecture.

Roman Classical (500 BC - 450 AD)
Associated with narrative art that realistically depicts figures and architecture.

Byzantine (500 - 1200)
Associated with mosaics and stylized, symbolic art that presented Christian themes.

Romanesque (1000 - 1300)
Associated with art supported by religious patrons, strayed away from realism, and included high relief sculpture and stained glass.

Renaissance (1400 - 1525)
Associated with a revival of classic Greek and Roman aesthetics, references to the bible and mythological subject matter, and realistic paintings and sculptures.

Gothic (1100 - 1500)
Associated with religious sculpture, stained glasses, and a unique architectural style, recognized through elements like pointed arches, flying buttresses, and rose windows.

Rococo (1730 - 1800)
Associated with highly decorated, ornate, and lighthearted subject matter.

Dutch Realism (1600 - 1700)
Associated with small scale artwork, depicting symbolic images, and everyday activities of common people.

Mannerism (1520 - 1600)
Associated with exaggerated, distorted figures and complex subjects.

Baroque (1600 - 1700)
Associated with themes similar to the Renaissance, but much more dynamic in movement, color and drama.
Neoclassicism (1770 - 1830)
Associated with large-scale artwork, with strong compositions, displaying ancient Greek and Roman standards.

Romanticism (1770 - 1850)
Associated with strong emotion, an emphasis on the imagination, and going against the social standards.

Realism (1855 - 1900)
Associated with depictions of real life and everyday people.

Impressionism (1860 - 1880)
Associated with artwork that depicted light’s effects on its subjects, using pure color, and apparent brushstrokes.

Post- Impressionism (1885 - 1905)
Associated with thick application of paint, distinct brush strokes, and real life subjects.

Fauvism (1900 - 1907)
Associated with artwork that used intense color and pattern, but simple subjects.

Expressionism (1905 - 1933)
Associated with artwork that expresses feelings and emotions through the brushstrokes and color.

Cubism (1907 - 1922)
Associated with straying further away from realistic depictions. Depicted distorted perspectives, and fractured the subject into geometric shapes.

Surrealism (1920s - 1930s)
Associated with artwork depicting dream-like imagery.

Dadaism (1915 - 1924)
Associated with the first conceptual art, using found objects.

Abstract Expressionism (1940s - 1950s)
Associated with experimental painting, exploring freedom of technique, like in action painting, and color field painting.

Pop Art (1950s - 1960s)
Associated with highly decorated, light-hearted subject matter.

Op Art (1960s and beyond)
Associated with an abstract depiction of illusion through movement, pattern, and hidden images.

Contemporary (1980s and beyond)
Associated with a wide range of media, techniques, and subjects. Constantly challenges our definition of art.

Pre-Visit Activities

Before your visit to NSU Art Museum, we recommend that you and your students discuss some of the ideas and themes in the exhibition. It is beneficial to introduce your students to a number of works from the exhibition. (You can find examples of their pieces on pages 22-26)

Objectives

- Introduce students to Kandy G. Lopez, Nathalie Alfonso and Alejandro Piñeiro Bello and their works.
- Discuss themes related to the exhibition.
- Elements of Art and Principles of Design

What is culture?

Ask your students, what is culture? During this activity, ask your students to discuss what constituted their idea of culture. Help them consider what is encompassed in an artwork concentrated on culture, how we interact with art, and why an artist would create art focused on culture.

a. Compare and contrast the artwork below. Think about the idea of space in each artwork. Both have captured their similar subjects in different ways.
b. Discuss their similarities and differences.

Make it Abstract!

This piece is titled Melo in the city, it is an abstract artwork. Create an abstract cityscape using simple shapes, similar to Kandy Lopez.

Use the three artworks below as examples of representational, abstract, and non-representational artwork.

Questions for discussion:

1. What is a better style of art: representational, abstract, or non-representational? Why?

2. Can you find any similarities between the representational piece and the other two paintings?

3. Which elements of art and principles of design are incorporated in each piece? Do the artworks share any of them?
The Elements of Art and the Principles of Design

The Elements of Art are the basic parts used by Artists in creating art; they are what you use to create an aesthetically pleasing work. When we make Art, we need to understand and apply these seven Elements of Art.

Line A mark made by a pointed tool such as a brush, pen or stick, a moving point. Different tools make different kinds of lines.

Shape A flat, enclosed area that has two dimensions, length, and width. Artists use both geometric and organic shapes. Shapes come in many types and sizes.

Color Is one of the most dominant elements. It is created by light. There are three properties of light. Hue, Value, and Saturation. Colors can be bright, dull, dark, and light.

Value Degrees of lightness or darkness. The difference between values is called value contrast.

Form Objects that are three-dimensional having length, width, and height. They can be viewed from many sides. Forms take up space and volume.

Texture Describes the feel of an actual surface. The surface quality of an object; can be real or implied. Texture can be smooth or rough, hard, or soft, etc.

Space Is used to create the illusion of depth. Space can be two-dimensional three-dimensional, negative and or positive.
The Principles of Design describe the ways that artists use different strategies for creating a work of art.

- Balance is the distribution of the visual weight of objects, colors, texture, and space.
- Contrast is the difference between elements in a work of art, like color, line, shape, and texture.
- Emphasis is the part of the design that catches the viewer’s attention.
- Movement is the path the viewer’s eye takes through the work of art, often to focal areas.
- Pattern is the repetition of an element in a work of art. The pattern can use color, line, shape, or the other elements of art.
- Scale refers to the size an object in relationship to another object. It is the feeling of unity created when all parts relate well with each other. When drawing the human figure, scale can refer to the size of the head compared to the rest of the body.
- Harmony is when the elements of an artwork come together in a unified way.
Line art Landscape

In Kandy G. Lopez's fiber art, she uses yarn and line to create her portraits.

Follow the steps to create a landscape using line.

First, create an outline of a simple landscape. This example is of rolling hills on a sunny day.

Next, use your drawing materials to create repeated parallel lines to fill in the outlines.

Use different colors to create the illusion of space.

Continue to draw repeating lines until the space is filled.

Lastly, add some details to complete your line art landscape.
